That's my middle name. John Smith says: I hear that. I wouldn't have to work at all if it weren't for the boss walking by every few minutes. Steve Sims says: We should do something about that. Let's put something in his lunch so he'll have to go home... or to the bathroom for the rest of the day John Smith says: Hmm. Let's see. I betcha that a little toilet bowl cleaner would do the trick. If we're lucky he'll be gone for the rest of the week Steve Sims says: Yeah. That's funny. Nothing like some scrubbing bubbles in his stomach. Jane, I really need to see you tonight. My wife is being worse than ever. The only good thing about that witch is that she has no idea that you and I are seeing each other after work. Anyway, I can't wait to see you. We'll meet at the Holiday Inn on 5th St. at 8:30. I'll tell her I'm working late again. -Jim

Jim, I can't wait to see you as well. I'll treat you right like your wife never could. The best part is that when you leave her in six months, she'll have no idea about our affair when it comes to the divorce proceedings. See you tonight, Jane <jim@yahoo.com> wrote: Jane, I really need to see you tonight. My wife is being worse than ever.
